A LITTLE LESS TO REMEMBER

Clean means this.

A picture guide to knowing when you're done.

Point to one job. Practice it together. Check the finish line.

Put toys away

Instead of: “Tidy up.”

Toys are in their own bins. The floor is clear where you played.

Sort the clothes

Instead of: “Pick up clothes.”

Dirty clothes are in the hamper. Clean clothes are in a drawer or on a hanger.

Clear your place

Instead of: “Help with dinner.”

Your unbreakable plate and cup are at the agreed spot. Your napkin and crumbs are picked up.

Make the bed

Instead of: “Fix your room.”

The cover is pulled up. The pillow is back at the head of the bed.

This belongs to

My job today

My own finish line

Start with one finish line.

If the whole list feels big, point to one row. A child who is learning can do it beside an adult.

Use reachable storage. An adult handles anything hot, sharp, heavy or breakable.